

Prof. Christoph Dupont

Pediatric GI since 1980, current practice of all GI activities, including endoscopies, with a specific focus on endoscopy in neonates and in allergic children. Formerly head of neonatology and pediatric GI in Hospital Saint Vincent de Paul, Paris, France, then of ambulatory pediatric GI department, Hospital Necker, Paris. Currently, Emeritus professor, Paris-Descartes University, and pediatric private clinical practice, Clinique Marcel Sembat, Ramsay group, Boulogne-Billancourt, France. Committee of Nutrition of the French Society of Pediatrics (past president). Principal investigator or investigator in numerous clinical trials, in the field of gastroesophageal reflux, diarrhoea, constipation, infant nutrition and food allergy. Currently working in the field of pediatric GI and severe food allergy, diagnosis, and treatment. Over 350 publications in peer reviewed papers. Co-founder of the company DBV Technologies.