

Dr Kathy Gallagher

Dr Kathy Gallagher graduated from Norwich Medical School (UK) in 2011. She trained in General Paediatrics in the East of England before sub specialising in Paediatric Rheumatology. She undertook her Paediatric Rheumatology training at Cambridge University Hospital, Nottingham Children's Hospital and Great Ormond Street Hospital for Children, London. She commenced her consultant post with Children's Health Ireland at Crumlin in September 2022. Kathy has a keen interest in medical education and is currently a member of the working group for EAP learning.