

Prof Luisa Galli

Prof. Luisa Galli is Full professor of Pediatrics at the University of Florence, Italy. She is head of Infectious Diseases Unit, Meyer Children's Hospital, IRCCS, Florence since 2003 and has over 25 years experience as a specialist in Paediatrics and Infectious Diseases. Prof. Galli leads also the Hospital Infections Committee, Meyer Children's Hospital, IRCCS, Florence. Prof. Galli has broad experience in acute and chronic pediatric community and hospital-acquired infectious diseases, including HIV, tuberculosis, tropical and parasitic infections, infections in the immunocompromised and treatment of multi-drug resistant infections. Prof. Galli has been President of the Italian Pediatric Infectious Diseases Society [SITIP] from 2015 to 2018.