

Prof. Chiara Azzari

Pediatrician, immunologist. Director of the Pediatric Clinic and scientific didactic coordinator at the Meyer Children's Hospital, full professor of Pediatrics and director of the School of Pediatrics at the University of Florence. Head of the Jeffrey Modell Foundation Research and Diagnostic Centre in Florence, Italy.

Her main research interests are in the diagnosis and treatment of children with primary immunodeficiencies and in the molecular diagnosis of infectious diseases. Author of hundreds of scientific publications, principal investigator in national and international studies and inventor of three patents on newborn screening of immunodeficiencies and on molecular diagnosis of infectious diseases.