

Dr Niccolò Parri

Niccolò Parri is an internationally recognized Pediatric Emergency Physician, with a broad range of experience as a clinician and educator. At the international level he was Past-Chair of the Pediatric Emergency Medicine Section of the European Society for Emergency Medicine (EUSEM), founder and board of the EUSEM's branch society European Society for Emergency Pediatrics (EUSEP) and scientific board of the European Academy of Paediatric Societies (EAPS). Dr. Parri is a key opinion leader on the diffusion of point-of-care ultrasound. The components of his work is in the Pediatric Emergency Department and Trauma Center at Meyer Children's Hospital Florence, Italy and include clinical care, research and teaching.